INTRODUCTION

The forty-third volume of the ATLANTA CITY DIRECTORY is herewith presented and embodies a complete and comprehensive epitome of the social, commercial, industrial and professional interests and activities of the municipality and immediately adjacent environs. All the local features which have proven so satisfactory to patrons in previous issues have been retained and several have been amplified and improved, it being the purpose of the publishers to give to the production of the volume the advantage of all improvements in modern directory-making.

The statistics presented in this Introduction are impressive as indicating the wealth, industry and culture of the city and of the territory of which Atlanta is the center.

In the Index to Contents is shown the number of page upon which any item of information can be found.

ATLANTA

THE GATE CITY OF THE SOUTH.

Atlanta is situated in the north-central portion of Georgia, near the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains, on a ridge which divides the watershed of the Atlantic from that of the Gulf of Mexico. It is 1,050 feet above the level of the sea, being in this respect the highest city of its size or larger in the United States, east of Denver. The Chattahoochee River, which flows within eight miles of the city, is the source of its water supply and hydro-electic current. The city lies in the heart of one of the richest regions of the world and yet one which is far from fully developed. Georgia is the largest state east of the Mississippi River; it contains 59,475 square miles, and only about 12,000,000 of its 34,000,000 acres of tillable soil are under cultivation. Even so, the great size of the state and the remarkable development which has been and is going on make it to-day the fourth state in the Union in agricultural values.

DISTRIBUTING CENTER.

Five hundred Northern and Eastern manufacturers and producers have southeastern sales agencies in Atlanta and very many of them carry stocks in warehouses here. Atlanta's location with relation to the South Atlantic and Gulf Ports may be likened to the wide-opened hand of a man. The palm represents Atlanta; the five fingers, the routes from Atlanta to the sea and the gulf; and the tips of the fingers, the ports of Charleston, Savannah, Jacksonville, Mobile and New Orleans. All of these ports may be reached overnight from Atlanta, as may also Memphis, Nashville, Cincinnati, Louisville and other important cities.

POSTOFFICE RECEIPTS.

Draw a straight line across the United States from Washington, D. C., to Los Angeles, Cal., and the receipts of the Atlanta Postoffice exceed those of any city south of the line. Note the phenomenal size and steady growth of Atlanta's receipts: Year ending June 30th, 1915, $1,396,013.19; 1916, $1,465,543.49; 1917, $1,614,004.51; 1918, $2;162,333.11; 1919, $2,525,597.41. Since July 1st, first-class mail matter has been on the two-cent basis. Last year was a three-cent year, this year is a two-cent year. Even so, the receipts this year far exceed those of last year in actual dollars and cents, and are running to-day on the basis of over three million a year. Note the figures for three months of 1919: September, $258,384.85; October, $241,407.34; November, $241,447.65.

BANKING FACILITIES.

If a city's prosperity is reflected in the reports of its clearing house, and the bank is the arbiter of industrial and commercial enterprise, fortune has smiled on Atlanta. The city has twenty banks and trust companies, seven of which are in the Clearing House. Clearings given below cover only the Clearing House banks. Other figures are for the entire city. The following figures show the remarkable strength and growth of Atlanta's banking institutions: Capital, $8,196,700; surplus and profits, $6,282,791; deposits, $124,320,678; total resources, $162,727,205; increase in deposits, 12 months, $43,210,378; increase in total resources, 12 months, $44,740,260. It will be noted that the deposits in Atlanta's banks and trust companies are steadily increasing at the rate of over a hundred and seventeen thousand dollars a day, including Sundays and holidays. Headquarters of the Sixth Federal Reserve District are in Atlanta. Atlanta's bank clearings: 1893, $60,753,911; 1901, $111,755,849; 1910, $574,164,917; 1918, $2,528,485,083; 1919, $3,290,186,377.62. In October, 1919, Atlanta cleared $406,219,578, taking twelfth place among the cities of the United States, surpassing such cities as Richmond, New Orleans, Omaha, Cincinnati, Minneapolis, Los Angeles, Dallas and Seattle, and coming within less than $75,000,000 of Detroit, Mich.

CLIMATE.

Both Atlanta's altitude (1,050 feet above the sea level) and its proximity to the Atlantic on the east and the Gulf on the south serve to modify the heat of the summer, give cool and comfortable nights, abundant and uniformly distributed rainfall and an active wind movement that renders oppressive humidity a rare occurrence. Hence deaths by sunstroke are entirely unknown in Atlanta. Not only does Atlanta offer to the home-seeker, the professional or business man the unrivaled opportunities naturally found in a large and progressive city, but also adds in great measure climatic features distinctly pleasant, conducive to health and favorable for business pursuits of all kinds and for outdoor occupations or amusements at all seasons of the year. The annual mean temperature is 61 degrees or nearly exactly that of Los Angeles, Cal. A temperature of 100 degrees has occurred in Atlanta but twice in forty years, and a temperature slightly below zero has occurred only three times during the same period. The crop season covers 221 days.

HEALTH CONDITIONS.

Among the vital facts concerned with the health of a city is the water supply. In this, Atlanta is fortunate. It is taken from the Chattahoochee River and pumped nearly six miles to large reservoirs, where it is filtered and passed through coagulating basins. Here it is repumped through the city mains and furnished to the populace in as pure condition as science can compel. It is clear, pure, wholesome water. The entire system is municipally owned. A municipally-owned sewerage disposal plant, the only one of its kind in the United States, prevents contaminating the source of water supply. A splendid system of sewers, reconstructed and extended, at a total cost of $3,912,292.84, serves practically every portion of the rapidly-growing city. Atlanta's death rate is lower than that of Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore or Washington and lower than that of any other southern city. Atlanta is the medical center of the southeast and there are a large number of well-equipped hospitals and sanitariums in the city. The location near the city of two large army camps and a general hospital is proof that government health experts consider its climate healthful and a splendid place for the rapid conditioning of men. The co-operation of Federal health experts with municipal health officials has served to bring Atlanta into the front rank of cities; viewed from the sanitary standpoint.

TRANSPORTATION.

Eight thousand miles of railroad form a network over the State of Georgia. Atlanta has eight systems of steam railroad operating thirteen lines in all directions, four belt lines entirely encircling the city, many miles of additional industrial tracks, two interurban electric lines, one gas-propelled interurban line and splendid freight terminals conveniently located near the center of the city. The total mileage owned and operated by Atlanta's eight systems of railway is 20,827. The following railroads serve Atlanta: Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlantic Railway, Atlanta & West Point Railroad, Central of Georgia Railway, Georgia Railroad, Louisville & Nashville R. R., Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway, Seaboard Airline Railway, Southern Railway, Belt lines furnish service for many of Atlanta's leading industries and sites with desirable railroad frontage for many more.

ELECTRIC LINES.

All of the electric city and interurban lines of Atlanta are operated by the Georgia Railway & Power Co., securing its hydro-electric power from the streams of Georgia and adjoining states. There are about sixty miles of interurban lines handling both freight and passengers. There are 225 miles of city and suburban trolley lines, radiating in all directions from the center of the city and reaching the factory districts. Universal transfers are used, making it possible to go from any portion of the city or suburbs to another for one fare.

PACKAGE FREIGHT CAR SERVICE.

Three hundred and seventy-eight merchandise or package freight cars originate in and move out of Atlanta over its various steam railroads every day. This does not include solid carloads from one consignor to one consignee, nor freight transferred from one road to another, nor does it include freight passing through Atlanta. Computed on the basis of 15,000 pounds to the car, this means that Atlanta's business houses ship 5,670,000 pounds every day in package cars.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE.

Through Pullman cars to and from nearly every important city in the United States touch Atlanta, and mail deposited in the Atlanta postoffice before eight o'clock at night finds its destination the following morning at points in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi or Louisiana. One hundred and twenty-four passenger trains arrive and depart daily at the passenger stations in Atlanta. Eighty of these are through trains and forty-four local.

MARKETS.

Atlanta's location in the geographical center of the Southeast, its proximity to the South Atlantic and Gulf ports and the inland cities of the country, make it at once a desirable point from which to reach the markets of the world, including the greatest opportunity of American foreign traders, Latin-America. There are within the territory of the Southeast, of which Atlanta is the center, a great many cities of five thousand population and over. This furnishes a wonderful market within a reasonable compass.

RAW MATERIALS.

Atlanta is in the center of a territory rich in natural resources. The value of the products of the soil, alone, in the State of Georgia, equals nearly six hundred million dollars, half of which is cotton. This region is an ideal location for all kinds of cotton mills, finishing plants for cotton goods, canning and dehydrating factories, preserve and pickle plants, using cheap hydro-electric power. To the south of Atlanta lie the great forests of long-leaf yellow pine; to the north and west, the hardwoods and cedar of North Georgia and Tennessee, the coal and iron fields of Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia. The annual value of southern lumber is over $450,000,000 plus over $25,000,000 for naval stores. Within a few miles of Atlanta are great stores of marble, granite and limestone. Portland cement requires for its manufacture limestone and clay adjacent to cheap fuel.

POWER

Atlanta's power is furnished from water developments of the Georgia Railway & Power Co., and is probably the cheapest power in the United States, with two possible exceptions. The lines of this company are situated near those of the Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama and Central Georgia developments, and physical connections are made with practically all of these developments.

GAS.

Manufactured gas is furnished by the Atlanta Gas Light Co. at rates ranging as low as 95 cents per thousand cubic feet.

HOUSING.

The housing situation in Atlanta grew to be a problem of large proportions during the war. However, this is being solved by increased building activity. The building operations in Atlanta have averaged about four million dollars per year for the past several years. In 1919, they have already passed the nine million mark and bid fair to treble the average of previous years. Atlanta is essentially a home city, principally of separate houses with spacious verandas, deep lawns and gardens. In addition, it has more apartments than any city in the South. There are 44 hotels in Atlanta with more than 3,000 rooms, and 650 apartment houses. Atlanta has 20 buildings in the skyscraper class.

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES.

Atlanta is an educational center, having 52 institutions of learning in addition to 64 public schools and commercial colleges. Among the leading institutions of higher learning are: Georgia School of Technology, Emory University, Oglethorpe University and Lanier University. For young women: Agnes Scott College, Cox College and Conservatory and Elizabeth Mather College. There are five colleges for negroes.

STATISTICAL FACTS REGARDING ATLANTA.

POPULATION.

As in previous years the enumeration of citizens and business concerns was not confined to the actual city limits, but embraced all adjacent suburban territory, including the villages of College Park, Center Hill, East Lake, East Point, Kirkwood, Lakewood, Lakewood Heights, Inman Yards, Egan and Hapeville. Those villages are to all intents and purposes a part of the social, commercial, and industrial life of Atlanta; their residents are dependent upon that city for their prosperity, and they enjoy the civic advantages offered by it, since most of the residents have their business interests and activities therein.

The usual means of determining the population is to multiply the number of names of individuals printed in the Directory by 2 1-2 to allow for the names of women and children not included in the enumeration. In the present volume there are 103,422 names of persons who lived in Atlanta and its adjacent suburbs the time the enumerators secured the information for this book. Multiply this number by 2 1-2 and we have a population of 258,544 for the territory covered by the Directory.

The sobriquet "Pinnacle City" is sometimes applied to Atlanta because the elevation of the city is much higher than the leading cities of the country, being 1,050 feet above sea level; assessed valuation: real estate, $145,670,-012; personal property, $58,237,329; bonded debt, $3,910,000; tax rate, $1.25 per $100; miles of street, 441; miles of paving, 229.3; miles of public sewers, 330.03; miles of sidewalks, 484; miles of electric street railway, 225; miles of gas mains, 270; parks and parkways, 18, value $1,853,625; water works: capacity, 6,395,000,000 gallons (10 months), daily average number of gallons pumped, 22,876,174 (10 months); miles of water mains, 405; value of plant, $7,218,603.15; fire department: number of men, 212; station houses, 15; the department completely motorized; value of buildings and lots, $433,400.00; value of apparatus, $88,565.00; police department: number of men, 283; stations, one; public schools: 64; teachers, 775; pupils, 30,500; value of property, $1,850,000; miscellaneous schools, 40; public library: number of volumes, 80,000; postoffice receipts, 1919, $2,525,597.41; banks and trust companies, 26; deposits, 1919, $124,320,678; clearings, 1919, $3,290,186,377.62; theatres and motion picture houses, 24; hospitals, 14; hotels, 44; manufacturing: factories, 598; operatives, 71,162; wages paid annually, $52,555,-416; value of annual output of production, $288,170,220; value of real estate transfers, 1919, $40,358,675.93; number of transfers, 1919, 12,032; value of building permits, 1919, $10,442,739.00.

ATLANTA COMMERCIAL BODIES.

The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce has been called the "dynamo which generates the Atlanta spirit," and has for many years been the medium through which public-spirited men work together for the common good. Through its instrumentality several other commercial organizations have been built up in addition to those already in existence. This is notable also of the Atlanta Convention Bureau, which is one of the most active and efficient of its kind in the country.

The Atlanta Freight Bureau, Atlanta Retail Merchants' Association, The Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, Association of Credit Men, Atlanta Clearing House Association, Atlanta Convention Bureau, Atlanta Hotel Men's Association, Georgia Chamber of Commerce, Retail Grocers' and Butchers' Association, Ad Men's Association, Builders' Exchange, Printers' Board of Trade, Coal Merchants Association and Rotary Club are all able and efficient commercial bodies.

THAT GOOD GULF GASOLINE

Is a clean, powerful gasoline, manufactured especially for the gasoline motor from selected high-grade crude petroleum under the strict supervision of the most skilled chemists.

It is straight run, containing no kerosene or casing head mixtures, and is carefully filtered for the elimination of any foreign matter.

It is used in the United States Navy in its submarines and all other gasoline propelled craft. This, in itself, is the best evidence of its superior quality.

We feel justified in saying there is more power in That Good Gulf Gasoline. More power means more mileage at a lower cost, with less carbon, less strain upon your motor and a consequent saving on the general upkeep of your engine.

Put That Good Gulf Gasoline in your tank, and feel the exhilaration of More Power in your motor.

SUPREME AUTO OIL

is manufactured from selected high grade Southern-asphalt-base Crude Oil. You may eliminate much of the carbon troubles by using it exclusively.

DEPARTMENT STORES

KEELY Company

A Department Store—an institution embracing several departments under one roof: Dry Goods, Notions, Ready-to-Wear, Shoes, Rugs, Drapery.

Located for half a century at the corner of Whitehall and Hunter Streets.

THE sound growth of an enterprise that depends on public support is the measure of its usefulness. The trend of trade is along the line of best service giving just so surely as water runs down hill.

Therefore the growth of the KEELY store is interesting as indicating the kind of a store this is; and the fact that more people are buying goods here this season than bought here last season shows Keely service goes forward instead of backwards.

We are not perfect—probably never shall be perfect according to the ideal of perfection we have set up in front of us.

But by making this Store continually better we are succeeding in keeping it always BEST.

ROOFING MATERIAL

Barrett Specification Roofs

TWENTY YEAR GUARANTY BOND

"Barrett's Big Four"

Everlastic Multi-Shingles

a roofing of beauty. Laid quickly, as there are four shingles in a strip. Made of high-grade felt, thoroughly water-proofed and surfaced with crushed slate in natural colors, red or green.

Tylike Shingles

Individual shingles of same material as Multi-Shingles (red or green non-fading surface of crushed slate). Laid like slate shingles, look better, cost less—practically fire-proof. Especially charming for bungalows or residences where roof is important architectural feature.

Everlastic "Rubber" Roofing makes an air-tight, water-tight, weather-proof roof that will not crack, shrink, nor "run" in most severe climates. It is tough, pliable, elastic, durable and low in price. Sold in 36-inch wide rolls—1, 2 or 3 ply, containing 108 square feet.

Everlastic Slate-Surfaced Roofing

Made of best roofing felt, thoroughly surfaced with real crushed slate (red or green) so that roof requires no painting. Color unaffected by the elements. Rolls 32 inches wide over 100 square feet. Two inch lap allowed for cementing and nailing.
